The Germans of South Carolina to their tountrymen Throughout the

|From the New York Herald. |

AIKEN, S. C., Oct. 16, 1876.
To our Fellow Germans Throughout the United States : Feeling that, just at this time time, false and highly colored reports of the condition of affairs in this section are being spread before the country by different partisau journals, which tend to produce impressions and opinions untavorable to the good name and reputation of our adopted home, and indirectly to seriously injure our trade and business prospects; and knowing that, however earnestly the native lawiessuess and unchecked disorder on their part, these explanations with very many have been regarded as political efforts to whitewash and palliate offcaces of which they were really guilty; we, the undersigned, being all of the German merchants and citizens of Aiken, S C., desire to present a fair view of the condition of things here to our friends and fellow Germans throughout the country. Having come over from the fatherland for the purpose of advancing ourselves in life by means of the business facilities offered us here. we have constantly, since the time of our coming, devoted ourselves zealously to that single object; and we have neveralised ourselves with any political party in times past, giving our suffrages at each ejection to the candidates and tickets which we thought would best advance the interests of our adopted home and our own private interests, with those of the public. The course of events in South Carolina during the last few years, how ver, has forced us to affiliate with the democratic party here as the only one that can relieve us of the burdens which are well nigh crushing us, especially of the system of exorbitant taxation which is gradually depriving us of the fruits of many years' labor, while, at the same time, ruising those upon whom we are dependent for patronage, and of the misappropriation of the same when colice d, which has thrown the State into a condution of prostration that causind no parallel North or South. Year after year we have watched the course of the radical party here, in lapes that its better elements would rise into power and by a proper administration of the government bring us back to the high road to prosperity. But we utterly despair new of any change coming from them. Now and then reform is promised, fair words are spoken and a few favorable measures are passed; but it is not long before the corrunnion that has always charact rized them all of which were once thriving and prosperous, in the world. are gradually losing the good appearance which once marked them, under the witting effect of united in the same happy proportion in any so many years of misgovernment. Many of other preparation, viz: a gentle Cathartic, a them now, with their badly cleaned streets, di- | wonderful Tonic, an unexceptionable Alteralapidated fences, dirty, unpainted houses and tive and a certain corrective of all impurities of a most empty stores, are sad but speaking meauments of the rainous effects of the rangal misrule. We ask you to look for a moment at the character of those who govern, and then you can readily understand the reason of the prestrate condition of our State. The negroes, who largely outnumber the whites, were suddenly lifted, without any pre- Coile, Constipation and Biliousness paration, from a state of servitude into one of crops out again, and the beneficial results of equality with their former masters, and endowed immediately with the right of suffrage, unqualified by any condition, property or educaconal. Political adventurers from all sections of the Union came here and began to work upon the mind of the negro, in order to elevate themselves into position where they could advauce their fortunes. They found him disposed to regard them as the representatives of the power which had emancipated him and his triends, and disposed also to show his gratitude by giving them - control of the government, Grubbs wi h my Mules and Horses, giving them while at the same time ready to listed to any teachings which would fill him with distrust of wrested from the hands of the intelligent property holders and placed under the control of a motley crew, composed in part of these unscrupulous politicians and in part of the newly entranchised but still ignorant and easily corrupted negroes.

Is it any wonder, that with such men at the heim our good ship of State should be well JANNEY & CO nigh stranded upon the shore of irretrievable ruin? The property holders for eleven years have had no voice in the government, which has been run almost entirely by men having neither property here nor aught of interest in our welfare beyond what tends to add to their own enrichment. Recent events, occurring in a canvass in watch the native wattes are earnestly striving for reform under the leadership of Hampton and other true sons of Carolina, have brought the town and section in which we live into an undeserved and unpleasant notoriety. The accounts of them spread forth by different journals to the North and West (if we except a remarkably fair and impartial report of the "Elleaten Riot," lately published in the New York Herald, and which, we trust, will meet with the credence it deserves,) greatly injure and maligu the people with whom we have east our lot, and the impression made by them is greatly intensified by the action of the United States and State governments, both of which seem to us to be acting in unison against the white people of the State, whose only crime appears to be their carnest patriotic efforts for referm. But the difficulties at Hamburg and Elientou were the result of the antagonism which we stated before has been cunningly sown in the minds of the negroes toward the whites. The white people, here as elsewhere through the State, entercain the kindest feelings toward their former slaves. They know their ignorance, and know also that they are being worked upon by designing demagogues. The State government will not give the whites any protection or redress against the acts of incendiarism, robbery, &c., perpetrated by these negroes, and they have been obliged to defend themselves and to endeavor to put a stop to these disorders by prompt and summary punishment of the offenders. In all these difficulties the whites have at first acted altogether on the defensive, and they have assumed the offensive only when it became necessary by decisive action to prevent greater difficulties. In all cases they have shown their willingness to submit to the proper officers of the State or of the United States whenever they appeared and showed an ability to cope with and check the riotous negroes. Far from bearing any hostility to the negroes, at all their meetings they address themselves earnestly to the task of enlightening their minds and showing them that they would be happier and more prosperous under the gov erament of the men who have been brought up with them, and whose interests as merchants, planters and employers generally are closely connected with theirs as workmen, laborers and employees.

Instead of being autagonistic, the two races here have been and can be forever in perfect harmony. It is only the interventions of an alien band which has produced a temporary discord. The people are working hard for a good government, which will bring back pros peri y to all classes and enable both blacks and whites to live and work together quietly and amicably, as they are anxious to do. As part of the Commonwealth of South Carolina, as men who hold no office and seek no position at all, but look to the renovation of her fortunes for our owo business success, we connot stand apart at this crisis, but must join our hands earnestly with the party which is laboring for this result, which appears to us so vital to our well being, and we are acxious that our countrymen should realize the true condition of affairs here, so that a fair, impartial judgment can be had

To our business friends, who know us and our standing through the Commercial Register, and to our fellow Germans and countrymen generally, we appeal carnestly and dispassionately for that sympathy and aid in our great struggle here which comes through an honest recognition of our position and aims.
